THE "LE FIEND" FILE

CASE 1: "Safecracker Suite"

On Thursday, Sept. 7, at approximately 1:30 p.m., bacterist Betty Jeavon was relaxing in her favorite armchair, staring into the fire, when she heard a loud bang. She noticed that the safe in her living room had been opened. She immediately called the police.

PROSECUTION REQUIREMENTS:
- Find the burglar and verify if at the gunstore.
- Find the money and return it to the bank.
- Find and recover the cash at Police Headquarters.

STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS:
LOCATE: Entire city, 24 blocks

CASE 2: "Closed on Mondays"

Mrs. Lola Mcgurk, a successful socialite, was found dead in her penthouse on Monday morning. The cause of death was determined to be a heart attack.

PROSECUTION REQUIREMENTS:
- Find the button and verify it at the tailor shop.
- Find the French bulldog and return it to Police Headquarters.

STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS:
LOCATE: Midtown, 64 blocks

CASE 3: "Dealing in Diamonds"

Warrant Requirements: Reasonable cause must be established before the warrant can be signed. The "reasonable cause" consists of finding the evidence, verifying it, and presenting it at the place of origin, recovering the stolen property, and returning it to the owner. The evidence and stolen item must be found in the same place. In the case, you may only carry and return one item at a time. Proceed with caution.

PROSECUTION REQUIREMENTS:
- Find the button and verify it at the tailor shop.
- Return the stolen diamond at Police Headquarters.

STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS:
LOCATE: Midtown, 64 blocks

CASE 5: "The Big Sweep"

Touche was a take a new approach. Rather than gather the evidence case by case and place each case in a box, he decided to take everything at once. The city, the schools, the mayor's office, the police, the fire department, the library, the hospitals, and the senior centers would be swept. Touche would sweep all of the stolen goods and evidence at their storage. The sweep would last 20 minutes, and with the sweep, he could sweep for the stolen goods and evidence at all of the locations.

PROSECUTION REQUIREMENTS:
- Find the appropriate goods and evidence.
- Return the goods and evidence to Police Headquarters.

STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS:
LOCATE: Entire city, 48 blocks

LETTER FROM THE COMMISSIONER

Tips may not be a win-win situation, but for a city that's dependent on tips for its revenue, the idea is not rocket science. It's been the trend in the past, and now we're seeing it on a larger scale. The commissioner's letter, in particular, is a good example of how we can use tips to improve our city. The commissioner's letter is a reminder that tips can be a powerful tool for improving our city, and that we should consider using them more often.

WANTED: U.S. 100 bills.

The commissioner has a tip for you. He's been hearing about a scheme where people are planting money in the street, then calling for help. The people who find the money are then supposed to give it to the commissioner, who then uses it to improve the city. This is a great idea, and I think it could work. I've been thinking about it for a while, and I think it could be a good way to get some money back into the city.
